

All statements in the CEO Corner, whether or not individually framed in terms of belief, express the opinions of Novogen CEO and include forward-looking statements regarding the Company's current status, events and trends that may affect us and our scientific, clinical and business prospects. All of these forward-looking statements are subject to substantial risks and uncertainties, which are summarised in the Company's 20-K SEC filings available HERE. There are a number of important factors that could cause actual results or events to differ materially from those indicated by these forward-looking statements, including risks related to our available funds or existing funding arrangements, our failure to introduce new products or technologies in a timely manner, regulatory changes, risks related to our international operations, our inability to integrate acquired businesses and technologies into our existing business and to our competitive advantages, as well as other factors.

Actual results could differ materially from those anticipated. Reasons may include risks associated with drug development and manufacture, risks inherent in the regulatory processes, delays in clinical trials, risks associated with patent protection or other general risks or factors.

Investors should carefully consider these risks before making any investment in the Company. Each statement speaks only as of its date and we assume no responsibility to update or revise any forward-looking statement to reflect future events, trends or circumstances, notwithstanding the requirements of any applicable legislation or the listing rules of any stock exchange on which our securities are quoted.
